Public-facing

Authenticity matters

OBJECTIVE

Listen to youth and civil society, and show Singapore takes intergenerational concerns seriously.

TONE

Open, humble, genuine.

COUNTERPART

Youth & civil society

YOUNGO & NGO representatives · Global constituencies

Portfolio: Intergenerational equity · climate justice

Public background: Youth (YOUNGO) and NGO constituencies engage publicly at COP; their asks are on the record.

Public sources: Constituency public statements

MAIN TALKING POINTS

1. Thank participants and acknowledge the urgency they bring.
2. Share what Singapore is doing on green jobs and climate education.
3. Commit to continue engaging youth voices after the conference.

WATCH POINT — THE ONE THING TO AVOID

Avoid defensive or dismissive language, even if challenged sharply.

IF ASKED / PRESSED

Where Singapore hasn't moved as fast, say so honestly and explain the pathway.

ANTICIPATED QUESTIONS

Why isn't Singapore phasing out fossil fuels faster? PUBLIC

Why it may come up: A standard, pointed civil-society challenge; expect it directly.

- Be honest about constraints; point to the credible pathway and carbon markets. INTERNAL
- Youth groups publicly call for faster fossil phase-out (indicative). PUBLIC

Will you commit to a formal youth seat in the delegation? BOTH

Why it may come up: Youth constituencies increasingly ask for structural inclusion.

- No new commitment on the spot; note willingness to explore engagement channels. INTERNAL
